OPT OUT STUDENTS:

Students opting out will follow their assigned schedule. They will log into the class via the class's standing Google Meet. Cameras are required to be on during the entire period to verify students are in attendance. Students are expected to wear headsets or earbuds during the class to minimize at home distractions. Students will take their lunch break as indicated by team assignment.

Students opting out are expected to follow the same guidelines for dress as if they were in school. Students are cautioned about their background on camera.

HYBRID LEARNING

During Hybrid Learning, students are assigned to a cohort based on their last name.

- Students whose last names start with A-L are in Cohort 1
- Students whose last name starts with M-Z are in Cohort 2

When the assigned cohort is learning remotely, the cohort members follow their assigned schedule. They will log into the class via the class's standing Google Meet. Cameras are required to be on during the entire period to verify students are in attendance. Students are expected to wear headsets or earbuds during the class to minimize at home distractions.

Students attending remotely are expected to follow the same guidelines for dress as if they were in school. Students are cautioned about their background on camera.

Students who currently receive services related to an individualized plan (i.e., Special Education, 504, English Language Learners, Student Assistance Team) may be scheduled for additional days of In-School Learning during the Hybrid Learning Model in order to better meet their specific needs. This will be determined on an individual basis and within safety protocols.
