From the desk of the Principals:

You can often hear PGS staff remind students that our social contracts (school rules) begin to apply the moment they get on the bus each morning, and end when they step off the bus at the end of the day. We have talked to students to remind them of the importance of demonstrating safe, responsible, respectful behavior on the bus. Our hope is that they have self control and remember to follow the rules to make everyone's ride to and from school comfortable. Sometimes students make poor choices and need a reminder of the rules. When that happens, the driver will fill out a bus referral form and give it to the school. We will talk with the student, remind them of the expected behavior and if we need to, we will provide a consequence that matches the offense and let you know about the incident. It is our hope that our students will make every effort to demonstrate safe behavior, by staying seated at all times and keeping hands and feet to themselves, take responsibility for themselves and their actions, and show respect to their peers and to their driver. Have a conversation at home and ask your child about what positive behaviors they demonstrated on the bus today.

Notes from Home: Just a reminder, your child needs a note to the teacher each time their after-school plans change.
